

STRIKE OF STREET CAR EMPLOYEES IN CHICAGO NEAR END

Union Officials and Employers Said to be Near Agreement

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Aug. 4.— Union officials and executives of Chicago Surface Lines agreed tonight to proposals, which, if accepted by the traction employees would end the four day strike of surface line and elevated men.

Following the conference it was stated that the men's representatives had agreed to a 70 cent maximum wage instead of the present 82 cent wage but that they retained the eight hour day with overtime for all beyond the eight hours and also retained working conditions effective before the strike.

Ratification of men, if given, would allow cars to begin operation by Sunday or Monday it was said, thus running the strike into its sixth or seventh day.

President William Quinlan of the street car men's union said tonight that a referendum vote of the union could not be completed in his opinion in time to have the cars in operation again before Monday.

The settlement was reached after an all day conference between the union committee and the board of control of the surface lines and a meeting between the aldermanic citizens' committee and the committees representing the association of commerce.

At the time the agreement was reached, acting Governor Sterling was on his way to Chicago to try to mediate the differences and the state industrial commission had announced it would begin an investigation of the strike tomorrow.

Henry A. Blair, president of the Chicago Surface Lines, summoned the aldermanic and association of the commerce committees to his office after the union committee had offered to accept 70 cents an hour and the company had increased its former offer of 61 cents by three cents.

The men yielded to the acceptance of a year's contract containing a clause providing for thirty day's notice of another change in the wage scale in event of another lowering of the fare rate by the state commerce commission. With only two cents standing between the company and the union the company at last agreed to the 70 cent an hour proposal.

Both union and company officials tonight seemed confident that the agreement would be ratified by the men.

After all Morgan county will be fairly well represented at the Camp Custer training camp even if no Jacksonville boys are present. Waverly, Mercedosa, Murrayville and perhaps other towns in the county are sending representatives.

The offer of Illinois coal operators to pay the miners on the old scale until March 1923 and to submit all differences to arbitration sounds fair and reasonable. If the operators of the state and Mr. Farrington of the miners organization were free from the orders of Mr. Lewis the chances are that the mining of coal would begin very soon in this state.

A federal order is to the effect that coal shall not be shipped from one state to another. How about the states that do not produce coal? Perhaps the purpose of the ruling is to make conditions so acute in Illinois and some other states that a settlement of the shutdown troubles will become an early necessity.

ation in that state is $107 or more than $500 a year for the usual family of five. Of course the rich pay more than the poor, but certainly not more in proportion. Assuming that the tax rate in New York, the total becomes staggering in its enormity, and it is not hard to see why the people—usually so careless about governmental expenditures—are rising in bitter protest against the burden.

It will, however, take more than a protest, even at the polls, to obtain relief. It is not a party matter to be rid of by "turning the rascals out," and voting in the other fellows. The officials themselves are, to a great extent, helpless. The people insist on unusual services and improvements which cost money. They demand, or at least submit to, divers unnecessary commissions and regulatory bodies.

They take all the pay the government will give them, and cry for more. The kind of service we get from government costs a lot of money, and even if administrations are economically conducted, the taxes are bound to be high. And to stay high! Did you ever know of taxes coming down? You can remember a score of fellows who went into office on a promise of "tax reform"—but when was a tax ever reformed?—Farm Life.

THE ONLY GIRL
When you go back to the old home town, after being away many years, one of the most startling discoveries is the change wrought by time in fellows you once knew as town drunkards, loafers or bullies.

A fellow who in his early twenties was a no good—"never be worth his salt"—steps up briskly and wrings your hand. Your learn that he is in business for himself now and "doin' fine."

He is restless. You guess that he is anxious to confide. Then the great and important secret comes out. He met "the only girl" and married her.

A little farther down the street you meet the fellow you once knew as the town bully. There is a sad, reminiscent vacancy in his eyes, such as Napoleon must have had at St. Helena. The system has caught him.

Then his great secret comes out. He also met "the only girl" and married her. He doesn't tell you, but you surmise that she has him well tamed.

Another familiar face looms up.

FAIR DIRECTORS HELD MEETING
Nearly all Judges Secured—Matters Now Winding up for the Big Event.

Last night the directors of the Morgan county fair association held a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. President L. A. Reed occupied the chair and the following directors were present: J. L. Henry, C. S. Black, Harry Iner, Samuel Camm, J. W. Arnold and Scott Green.

It was decided to hire men for the erection of tents this year instead of relying on free labor as was done last year. The fair committee was authorized to ascertain the prices of labor and materials for erecting race horse barns on the fair grounds. This committee is to report to the board at a special meeting which is called for next Monday night.

At the Chamber of Commerce county tour next Tuesday will cost a large sum of money, and as it will advertise the fair, an appropriation of $25 was made to help meet the expenses of the trip.

The price of season tickets for children between 10 and 15 years of age was set at seventy-five cents. Authority was given to ladies in charge of departments to erect partitions in their exhibits to separate the various exhibits.

The judges for most departments have been secured and all departments expect to have judges within the coming week.

Bugle Wanted.

RETURNS FROM CZECHO SLOVAKIA
Miss Gladys Cochran Red Cross Worker Returns After Years Work Overseas.

Miss Gladys Cochran of West College avenue returned Thursday night from Czechoslovakia where she has been engaged in Medical Child Welfare work under the American Red Cross.

Miss Cochran sailed from New York on the liner Rotterdam, July 31 of last year.

On landing in France she went immediately to Paris where she reported to Red Cross headquarters. After a week in Paris she was assigned to Czechoslovakia and left immediately for Prague, the Capital of that republic. After two weeks of visiting the Red Cross dispensaries there, the local woman left for Dvur Kralove, where she spent many months helping the stricken people learn the methods of public health and child welfare. The name of this city means, "Court of the Queen." It is of about the same population as Jacksonville and is a textile city. The great majority of the population are employed in these mills. To American workmen the wages of the Czech workman would seem ludicrous. An unskilled man receives about $12 a month, and skilled workman about $20.

Housing Situation Bad
In all of the seven countries that Miss Cochran visited the situation in regard to housing was bad. In Czechoslovakia it was extremely bad. In fact the situation was so acute that some families were without any shelter at all. Therefore the government allowed each family so many rooms, if they had more than the allotted number they were compelled to share their spare rooms with others. But this bad phase of the affair is now passed and the people are on the road to normalcy.

The local woman noted the fine disposition showed by the Czechs towards Americans. The Red Cross workers were always given the best that the people had to offer and there was no feeling of skepticism toward the new ideas ushered in by the Americans. Some of the ideas of the Czechs certainly needed changing too, everyone slept with closed windows and even the local doctor warned his patients to beware of the night air. Both these old habits, and the fact of many people living in such limited space made the Red Cross workers task hard. People with contagious diseases were living in the same room with well persons. This was hard to remedy as there was no other place to move the sick except the Red Cross dispensary, and it was inadequate to hold the very large numbers of those suffering from the severe diseases.

The Church of Scotland (Presbyterian), and the Southern Methodist church are maintaining missionaries in Czechoslovakia and have many new followers.

There is a Congregational church in Prague which is attended by the Protestant Americans of that city.

Red Cross Maintains Schools
The Red Cross is maintaining a school in Prague for the training of native social workers and nurses. As soon as these are proficient in their work they are sent to their home communities and take charge of the local dispensaries, allowing the Americans to transfer their work elsewhere.

In May when Miss Cochran had concluded her work and received her discharge she toured several other countries. In Austria she noted the change from the friendly demeanor shown by the Czechs. The Austrians seemed to be in a bad position as their currency is worth next to nothing. In Hungary the people are very unhappy about losing some of their northern provinces to the Czechs, and say that some day they will have them back. One man told Miss Cochran that the Hungarians were but waiting for Emperor Carl's son to grow up and would then re-establish the empire.

Hungary at present is in a queer position. It is a kingdom without a king. The form is monarchical and the executive is the regent. It is thought by some well informed that Hungary will institute a dynasty of the younger line of the Hapsburgs. It might be of interest to some to know that in Hungary ex-president Wilson is cordially disliked as the Hungarians blame him for the loss of their northern provinces as he did not stick to his fourteen points, namely the point of disputed territories deciding which country they would belong to by plebiscite.

The Passion play at Oberammergau was witnessed by local woman at its first performance this year. In regard to high prices being charged by the Germans, Miss Cochran stated that the prices even tho they may be higher than normal, are really very low. The admission to the passion play was 300 marks, which was then the equivalent of about 35 cents in our money.

After a tour of England, France Switzerland and the Italian lake country Miss Cochran embarked for home at Naples on the Le-Province, and sighted the Statue of Liberty on July 28th.

Take Along a Book

Bridges, Roy, "Rogues' Haven"—The setting of this story is in a large old house, falling to rack and ruin, its mouldering atmosphere suggestive of mystery, its occupants sinister figures looming from an evil past. There is a smell of hidden gold about Rogues' Haven and as the secret of the house is unfolded the reader has true thrills and romance. It is well written, absorbing and colorful and the central interest is young John Howe and the strange adventures he goes thru following the revelation of his true identity as grandson of the old man and heir to a large fortune. The frantic struggle for this vast wealth, the mystery of the disappearance of John's parents, the extraordinary revelations of old Craig's past, all go to make up this dashing rolicking yarn. It is a novel with no particular purpose, no problem to dissect, but there is delightful vitality to each page and each character is depicted with deftness of delineation and the love thread that runs through the story gives the reader much entertainment. The house was at one time a peaceful old English mansion surrounded by picturesque landscapes of wonderful beauty—how it became a real rogues' haven furnishes the material for the author to write such an entertaining novel that will delight all his readers. Get it at the Public Library.

Curwood, James Oliver, "The Country Beyond"—A romance of the wilderness. This is the last novel by this famous author and it is a romance that lifts you from the midst of the humdrum cares and worries, and carries you off to the balsam-scented wilderness of the far north, to witness the life struggle of the most amiable rogue you'll find in fiction. It is the story of a girl who had faith in a lad man also the story of an airhead dog that figures in the plot all through. You will better understand the outdoor man's love for his dog when you read about Jolly Roger's dog named Peter. The author is an outdoors man who loves nature and the vastness of the wilderness, and who lives the thrilling adventures of his novels before he ever begins to put them on paper, so that they ring true. His own life in the open has taught him how to write about subjects upon which he possesses intimate knowledge. James Oliver Curwood has been a hunter, trapper and crack-rifleman in northern Michigan and Canada since he was a boy and has traveled many thousands of miles through the unpeopled distances of the Canadian wilds and the far North. The stories he has written have made him world famous and have sold by millions. His best known are "The Flaming Forest," "The Valley of Silent Men" also "The River's End." Curwood writes with a master hand and weaves tense situations and swift action into his stories. Those who enjoyed his former books will like the latest by this popular author, "The Country Beyond." Get it at the Public Library.

LIGHT TURNOVER ON STOCK EXCHANGE
 By Associated Press.
 NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—On a light turnover today stock market strengthened gradually from its early uncertainty final prices in a number of cases being practically at the day's highest levels.
 Gilt-edged issues especially rails were taken at concessions and there was evidence of good support and absorption for special purposes in some specialties.

There was not much in the day's news to encourage any change of sentiment on the part of traders. Week end reviews of business authorities indicated a hesitant attitude on the part of buyers in the principal centers.
 Western Union advanced to 111½ up more than 13 points in two weeks at the highest price since 1916. Motors, rubbers and coppers were inclined to weakness, although most losses were of a fractional nature. Total sales were approximately 550,000 shares. Foreign exchange showed an improvement. Tone of the market was sympathetic toward the Continental remittances. German marks were quoted at 7½ a hundred of one half cent about yesterday's market figures. Call money and renewed at 4 percent but eased to 3½ and thence to 3 where it closed. The time money market was active with a fairly good demand.
 Liberty bonds eased slightly.
 Total bond sales (par value)
 approximated $12,981,000.

BRADSTREET'S REPORT WILL SAY TODAY

By Associated Press.
 NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

"Labor troubles contrary to general hopes and expectations still hold the center of the stage and have been the cause of a further slight quieting down of trade buying—and in the iron and steel trades chiefly—for a more perceptible slowing down of industry. As for some time past the sections reporting most effect on industry are generally speaking those lying between the Alleghenies and the Mississippi north of the Ohio river, but the growing scarcity of fuel in the northwest is apparently the cause of increased concern, mainly because of the advance of the season which tends to bring the matter of fuel supply home to household consumers. In this respect the absolute cessation of anthracite coal mining is a matter of growing concern to dwellers in the eastern states."

LEONARD AND HAMMER READY FOR THE GONG

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., Aug. 4.— Leonard and Hammer, light weight champions, will defend his title for the third time within a month late tomorrow when he meets Ever Hammer, a rugged lightweight of Chicago, in a 10 round, no decision contest. As they will box at catch weights, Leonard will not lose his title unless he is stretched on the floor off the ring for the count.

Both Leonard and Hammer finished their training today with sparring along the beach and light exercises to loosen up their muscles. With the exception of a damaged right eye, received in his match with Tom Tandler in Jersey City a week ago, Leonard is in good condition. In fact he said his condition is better than when he faced Tandler.

BABE ADAMS SHUTS OUT BOSTON BRVES

BOSTON, Aug. 4.—Babe Adams shutout Boston, 3 to 0, allowing but three hits in eight innings. A thunderstorm broke in the last of the ninth after Powell had made a home run and Christenbury's single and Holke's double had put men on second and third with two out. After the customary wait Umpire McCormick decided the game could not be continued, making the official score 3 to 0. The game reverting to even innings and Powell's home run being wiped off the re-

FACTS ABOUT POST OFFICE TOLD ROTARIANS

Addition to Building Needed Mr. Harber Said — Other Brief Addresses Made.

At the Friday luncheon of the Rotary club Thomas Harber, assistant postmaster of the Jacksonville office, made the principal address. He was preceded by Frank J. Heintz who made a statement with reference to the Jacksonville chautauqua which is to open next Friday. Dr. A. L. Adams made interesting reference to his recent trip to Colorado. Dr. A. H. Dollear, vice president of the club, presided during the meeting.

The guests for the day included J. A. Dalzell and E. A. Lazert of Sarnia, Ontario, Canada, here on business with the Eli Bridge company; Frank Bickley, Peoria; J. E. Brasseux, Port Arthur, Tex.; Dr. David Reid and Worthington Adams, Jacksonville.

A communication was read from the Chester Rotary club with reference to the Herrin massacre and this was referred to the public affairs committee. Like action was taken with reference to a communication protesting against excessive freight rates, and another from the Illinois Manufacturers association urging the governor to hurry construction of the deepwaterway links between Utica and Joliet.

Mr. Heintz, who is president of the Jacksonville chautauqua, said that records show that one-fifth of the population of the United States annually attend chautauqua and lyceum events. He said that the local chautauqua has a record which classes it as one of the best in the country, and that the expenses run about a thousand dollars a day. It is purely an educational matter and all officers connected with the association give liberally of their time and thought, receive no compensation and pay for their own admission tickets.

Mr. Heintz emphasized the need of a permanent building and said that such a building could be used not only for the chautauqua but for other gatherings as well, and so would be of value in bringing visitors to the city each year.

Mr. Harber presented some interesting facts with reference to the Jacksonville post office. He spoke particularly of the need for a larger building and said that inspectors for the postal department had no hesitation in saying that betterments are needed for the good of the service, and to relieve the congested condition which is now a matter of annoyance.

Space is so limited that rural carriers do their office work in the basement. It is estimated that needed improvements would cost approximately fifty thousand dollars and at some later time it is the expectation that an effort will be made to secure, thru congressional appropriation, funds necessary for this work. Mr. Harber gave other facts and figures to show the volume of business done thru the local office. It was a very interesting address presenting facts with which the speakers' auditors were not familiar.

BLUFFS RESIDENT KILLED BY AUTO

William Tippet Dies of Injuries Sustained in Decatur — Is Struck While in City on Business.

Bluffs, Aug. 4.—William H. Tippet, 72, of Bluffs was struck by an automobile in Decatur this afternoon and died at 5:57 o'clock at St. Mary's hospital. The aged man was well known in Scott and Morgan counties. Up to press time no further particulars of his death had been learned.

Mr. Tippet was a manufacturer of patent medicines and had gone to Decatur in the interest of his business. He had always been rather adverse to automobiles and the fact that he met his death in this way comes as a complete surprise to all who knew him. The telegram stating that he had been struck and killed reached members of the family late this afternoon and they left for Decatur on the next train. His body will be brought to Bluffs for burial.

Deceased was a lifelong resident of Bluffs and had numerous friends and admirers in Scott county. He was a farmer for many years near Bluffs and in his later years was occupied in the manufacture of patent medicines, many of which gained wide fame. He is survived by three daughters: Mrs. Emma Ticknor, of Peoria; Mrs. Levada Gloom, of Springfield, and Mrs. Ellen Fowler, of Bluffs, and one son, Lovell Tippet of Bluffs.

FUNERALS

Sturtevant

The funeral of the late Miss Elizabeth Sturtevant was conducted in the lecture room of the Congregational church yesterday afternoon in the presence of a goodly number of sympathetic friends. Mrs. Gregory accompanied by Miss Spink, sweetly sang "Abide With Me," after which Rev. George E. Stickney read suitable portions of scripture and offered a fervent prayer.

Rev. F. S. Hayden, D. D., then said in part:

It would seem suitable when speaking of one so modest and shrinking as Miss Sturtevant to say but little on this occasion. The things of nature were most dear to her. The my own acquaintance with her was slight it served to reveal noble traits in her character. She loved nature, the fields, the streams, the meadows, all had rare attractions to her. She loved to go to the forest and seek the secrets of nature; she loved the knowledge of the flowers and sought in her quest for knowledge to store her mind. She always studied and as was said of an eminent person, "He died learning." Her days of investigations are not over yet; she will go in a blissful eternity.

President Wolsey, finished, accomplished scholar, and a student just beginning his college course, died at the same time and in speaking of them it was said that they would go hand in hand in the better land seeking knowledge and so will it be with her.

She loved to do her duty and to exert herself for the welfare of others. She was not above the lowly things of life but enjoyed doing all she could to make others happy. Religion was the choice jewel of her soul. She was not widely known to fame; the world will ring no bells for her but in the better land angels await her coming with the welcome, "Well done, good and faithful servant."

Mrs. Gregory sang "Rock of Ages" and then the casket was tenderly borne to its last resting place in Diamond Grove cemetery by Messrs. Hayward Sturtevant, a nephew of St. Louis; W. D. Wood, H. H. Bancroft, Lee Doan, William Bancroft and F. T. Irving.

The many lovely flowers were cared for by Mrs. Allerton Palmer and two daughters. At the cemetery Rev. George E. Stickney was in charge of the services.

A MEAN TRICK

Yesterday morning as Thomas Buckthorpe's employe was driving a buggy along the hard road he saw two Fords, evidently in a race running toward him. He drew away to one side with the inner wheel but a few inches on the concrete and the other several feet from it. The cars came along and crashed into the fore wheel of the buggy and demolished it. The men drove right on as fast as they could and there is no way to identify them and make them pay for their meanness.
